Office, 1506 West Broad. A Society Circus.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Warrenton, Va., July 3.—A society circus was given here yesterday afternoon, under the auspices of St. James Episcopal Church, and the production met with unlimited success. As early as 10 o'clock in 'the morning, when the street parade was scheduled, the streets of the town were crowded, and all through the day the roads to the Horse Shoe grounds, where the production took place, were thronged. Sam Appleton was ring manager, and his various introductory speeches were clever and attractive. The clown band, under the direction of Mrs. Billle hiayes, met with great applause every time it entered the ring. The riding of Master Jack and little Miss Elizabeth Gibb was wonderful. The bareback specialties of Messrs. Wilbur, Pattie and Spilman were also very original and good. Sercy Evans, as the strong man, and the Misses Fell and James Nash, in peasant dances and music, were excellent. Miss Louise Evans, as the tight-rope walker, elicited several encores, and the cowboys and Indians, in the 'Hold-up of the Deadwood Coach,' which contained the Clowns, was probably the best feature of the show.

The first german of the season, known as 'The Society Circus' german, was danced here in the Town Hall last night, and was one of the most brilliant affairs ever given in Warrenton. The hall was elaborately decorated for the ecoasion, and through the evening refreshments were served. Wi Summer Closing Hours

Winchester Is Facing Another Spirited Local Option Campaign,

BOTH SIDES ORGANIZED

'Wets" Are Now Preparing to Circulate Petition for Election.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Winchester, Va., July 3.—It is now generally expected that Winchester will have another local option campaign, and that, too, during the hot weather. In April, two years ago, the Anti-Saloon League forces carried the election by 160 majority, following one of the most heated contests ever ward between the west and dry advocates in the Shenandoah Valley, and it is understood that a petition will shortly be circulated asking for another election. Both sides appear to be well organized, more voters having paid their poil taxes than usual, and no opportunity is allowed to pass by either side to grasp every bit of evidence for campaign arguments. Some time before the recent regular municipal election the liquor men consulted with some of the lawyers regarding the matter of circulating a petition at that time, but the idea was discouraged. The prospects are, however, that the petition will be circulated very soon.

Normal School in Session.

The fifth annual session of the Winchester Summer Normal School for Teachers began a few days ago in the two large buildings of the John Kerr public schools, with Professor C. M. Farmer, of Berryville, as conductor and Principal N. D. Cool, of the Winchester schools, as general manager. The faculty conjests of men and women of long experience in educational work, and the attendance thus far is much larger than during the first lew days of the school last year. By the middle of the week it is expected over 200 teachers will be in attendance. Many have taken up the professional courses. The institute will last until July 30.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Washington, D. C., July 3.—Upon receipt of telegrams here to-day announcing the serious illness of Congressman Watter P. Brownlow, of Tennessee, it was currently stated that should his sickness prove fatal he would probably be succeeded by Grant Jarvis, of Rodgersville, a close personal and political friend.

Brownlow's serious illness dates from the time, about four months ago, when President Taft allowed Representative Slemp, of Virginia, to name the post-master at Bristol. Ell Warren, Brownlow's man, was ousted, the latter's patronage pull was broken, and he immediately took his bed, where he remained until carried to the hospital at Johnson Clty. Slemp's victory was a deathblow to Brownlow.
